I am concerned, however, that revenues for FY 86-87 will be less than projected. I still maintain that revenues for the next fiscal year will fall short of projections by roughly $13.4 million.

Therefore, if the Legislature sustains these vetoes and changes their estimate of 86-87 revenue, I am prepared to accept $13.4 million of new revenue. However, as I have stated in the past, I'm committed to a revenue source which avoids an increase in the rate of sales and income taxation.

Understand that I have selected these vetoes with great care. I have used an approach which attempts to have all areas and levels of government share the burden equally. Finally, I believe these reductions are in the best interests of and have the support of the people of Nebraska.

Understand further that if I simply wanted to give you an unrealistic set of vetoes with the expectation of being overridden, that I would have vetoed $46 million. When the rules were suspended and the budget was sent to me last Friday, this action reduced both your and my options.

I believe the economy cannot stand to have this $32.6 million removed with a tax increase. I believe what is required is that all of the offices of government restructure themselves to accomplish this objective.

In general, this reduction forces all government to become smaller. It is interesting to note that with these reductions it is the bureaucracy that will have to adjust and not the people.

To understand how we arrived at this moment, a review of the past few months is in order. Since I introduced my budget of $841 million in January, two changes have occurred in the amount of money we assumed would be available for expenditures.

On February 20th the Revenue Forecasting Committee re-forecast revenue downward by $21 million. They said we would have $21 million less money than we thought at the start of this session.

I offered a plan which would have enabled us to budget $840 million while maintaining our current sales and income tax rates. Senator Hannibal offered an alternative which accomplished the same objectives, and I agreed to it.

Unfortunately, the receipts of March appeared to be falling terribly short of projections. My decision to call an emergency meeting of the Revenue Forecasting Committee rather than wait until their regularly scheduled June meeting was based upon our shared desire of avoiding mid-year budget cuts.

The Forecasting Committee re-forecast 85-86 receipts down $13 million and took no action for fiscal 86-87. Again the objective of avoiding mid-year cuts in a special session led to my use of Fiscal Office and Revenue Department estimates for 86-87. The result of their work is that we will likely have $25 million less than anticipated previously.

The total anticipated revenue decline since I introduced an $841 million budget in January is $46 million. Most of this occurred after the Appropriations Committee sent their recommendations to the floor of the legislature.

My assumptions in making a proposal to you to solve this problem have been two:

1. We have between $34 and $46 million less money to spend and should make substantial reductions in the budget before turning our attention to the revenue increases.
2. We should not increase taxes by raising the tax rate on sales or income.

Ten days ago I presented a detailed plan to spend $18 million less and raise $28 million worth of new revenue.

I met with editorial page writers and spoke to Nebraska citizens individually and in groups. I explained why the budget should be reduced and why we should raise revenue in other areas than raising the sales and income tax rates.

The general description of my plan was this: Faced with an anticipated $46 million decline in revenue we cannot simply raise taxes and go home. We must make difficult and painful reductions in the budget. Faced with an economy that cannot afford the current level of services we must continue to reduce the size of government bureaucracies. Finally faced with an economy that is struggling on all fronts we must minimize the amount of money withdrawn from it to fund government operations.

The plan I submitted to you was rejected. Frankly the principle stumbling block was the force of the highway lobby that would prefer an $8.5 million reduction in the general fund budget before it would permit a reasonable transfer of the roads portion of the highway patrol over to the use tax. They would rather raise the rate of taxes on sales or income than permit us to touch the gasoline tax at a time when we could clearly afford an additional levy on gasoline.

The message I received from you was mixed. Some were saying: We can't decide what to reduce so you must do it for us. Others were saying: We're just going to raise taxes and go home.

The reductions I am proposing in this budget are very large; they total $32.6 million. If they are accepted by you, the representatives of the people, government at all levels will become smaller. At a time when the economy is experiencing both the benefits and ravages of disinflation and the stress caused by a weak agricultural sector, we will be leaving $32.6 million in the savings of individuals and businesses.

I urge you to imagine what $32.6 million of cash can do for the Nebraska economy. It will provide the basis for purchases and financing that will create the jobs this State needs.

While there appears to be a growing consensus that the budget should be reduced, don't fall into the trap of believing that I should have vetoed other things if I really wanted the budget reduced.

First of all, if there was consensus in the legislature to make other reductions that should have been made before the rules were suspended and the budget sent to me. Secondly, all reductions are difficult; nothing on this list is easy.

There are two of my line-item vetoes which require further comment.

(1) In reducing the University appropriation, I have stricken the earmarks for the Director of the Food Processing Center and the School of Technical Agriculture at Curtis, but left the funding in the total General Fund appropriation; this action is intended to insure flexibility for the Board of Regents to finalize and implement its priorities for reallocation.

(2) I have reduced the University appropriation by the amount of the Scottsbluff Nursing Program and eliminated the earmark. This program was not part of the Regents' budget request and would cost approximately $500,000 over the next three years. We simply cannot afford this new program.

In the area of state aid, local governments will argue that I have balanced this budget by shifting costs to property taxes. If local governments want to solve their shortfalls with tax increases, that is their option. However, they also can restructure the size of their government just as State government is reducing the size of its operation.

I believe these reductions will be understood and appreciated by Nebraskans. I urge you in the strongest possible language to sustain them.

Sincerely,
(Signed) ROBERT KERREY

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, NE

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning LB 516 without my signature and with my objections.

LB 516 would create a system to determine when and where judicial vacancies should be filled. The purpose is to promote greater efficiency in the state's judicial system. Although I do not disagree with this general goal, I am not comfortable with the structure created in the bill.

Sincerely,
(Signed) ROBERT KERREY
Governor

April 12, 1986

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, NE 68509

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am hereby returning LB 1129 without my signature and with the following comments:

First of all, I view Legislative Retirement Pay as a fringe benefit, and as such, it is a part of wages. Furthermore, I believe the intent of the Constitution is to delegate to the people of Nebraska the responsibility and authority for determining the level of Legislative wages.

As Governor, I believe this veto is warranted and justified. Even if the courts were to stretch the meaning of our Constitution to permit this delegation of responsibility and authority, my belief is that at the time our Constitution was originally constructed, throughout the history of our state, and now, the people do not want the Legislature to set the level of their wages and benefits.

On the other hand, as a citizen and as one of the employers of our Legislative Representatives, I support and would vote for such a retirement program. As a citizen I believe the package of wages and benefits offered to State Senators is insufficient given the time, effort, and sacrifice required of Nebraskans who serve in this capacity.

As a citizen I feel strongly that we should increase the pay and benefits of the members of our Unicameral. However, I am just one citizen and in this regard I have only one vote.

Based upon this belief I will immediately ask a group of twelve Nebraska citizens from both political parties and all three Legislative Districts to help us evaluate Legislative pay and benefits. I will ask these Nebraskans to recommend to all of us what we should pay these important State Representatives. I will ask them to listen to the people, to investigate the relative pay in other states, and to submit their conclusions to all of us.

Finally, I will accept their findings and will work to place the issue on the ballot so we all can decide if a change is warranted. It is only in this way that we can act responsibly and retain the authority granted to us by our Constitution.

I hope that the members of the Nebraska Legislature understand that I support the goal of improving your pay and benefits. However, it is the people themselves who must make this important decision.

Sincerely,
(Signed) ROBERT KERREY
Governor

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 436.

Introduced by Lamb, 43rd District.

WHEREAS, Anselmo was named after Anselmo Smith who was a civil engineer and who platted the towns along the Burlington Railroad for the Lincoln Townsite Company; and

WHEREAS, when Anselmo Smith arrived on the ground where the town was to be platted, he was so impressed by the beautiful country that he suggested this site would bear his given name; and

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 86046

April 14, 1986

To: Senator John DeCamp

Subject: Constitutionality of LB 90

QUESTION: Is LB 90, as amended, constitutional?

CONCLUSION: Yes.

You have submitted for our review amendment 2657 to LB 90 which is reflected in the 46th day - March 20, 1986 Legislative Journal.

The Sixth Amendment to the United States Constitution guarantees the defendant the right to confront his accusers. The Sixth Amendment has been made applicable through the Fourteenth Amendment to the States. In addition, the Nebraska Constitution under Article I, Section 11 provides as follows:

In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall have the right to appear and defend in person or by counsel, to demand the nature and cause of accusation, and to have a copy thereof; to meet the witnesses against him face to face; to have process to compel the attendance of witnesses in his behalf; and a speedy public trial by an impartial jury of the county or district in which the offense is alleged to have been committed. (Emphasis added).

It is generally agreed that the process of confrontation has two general purposes. The first and essential purpose of confrontation is to secure the opportunity of cross-examination. The right of cross-examination has not been without exceptions. The framers of the constitution did not enumerate the exceptions to the cross-examination principle. Over the years a number of exceptions have been legitimately developed and created and have withstood the test of court scrutiny.

In each instance, the focus of the court has been to ensure that there are indicia of reliability as to the testimony which is proposed so that the trier of fact has a satisfactory basis for evaluating the truth of the offered evidence.

In Kay v. United States, 255 F.2d 476 (4th Cir.) cert. denied 358 U.S. 825, 79 S.Ct. 42, 3 L.Ed.2d 65 held:

The confrontation clause was intended to prevent the trial of criminal cases upon affidavits, not to serve as a rigid and inflexible barrier against the orderly development of reasonable and necessary exceptions to the hearsay rule.

The power of Congress and of a state Legislature to provide for the admission of evidence is not subject to any arbitrary limitation . . . they may carve out a new exception to the hearsay rule, without violating constitutional rights, where there is reasonable necessity for it and where it is supported by an adequate basis for assurance that the evidence has those qualities of reliability and trustworthiness attributed to other evidence admissible under long-established exceptions to the hearsay rule.

It seems rather obvious that the Sixth Amendment's right to confrontation has an acknowledged legitimate possibility of expansion within recognized exceptions. Those exceptions must guarantee the trustworthiness of the testimony. The fundamental question again is whether the reliability of the evidence is such that cross-examination could impeach its credibility or authenticity.

In the usual situation, the Sixth Amendment confrontation clause requires that the prosecution either produce the witness or demonstrate the unavailability of the declarant whose statement it wishes to use against the defendant. A demonstration of unavailability, however, is not required in every case. If the reliability may be established the Sixth Amendment does not necessarily require absolute confrontation.

In Ohio v. Roberts, 448 U.S. 56, 65 L.Ed.2d 597, 100 S.Ct. 2531, the court considered whether the admission at trial of an unavailable witnesses preliminary hearing testimony violated the defendant's right to confrontation. Basically, the court established a two-pronged test to avoid violation of confrontation clause. The test as established in Roberts resulted in the necessity of showing that the witness must be unavailable and secondly, that the offered testimony is supported by sufficient guarantees of trustworthiness.

To the extent that young children have been required to participate in the court setting, it has been shown that forcing the children to testify in court can cause severe emotional damage and that by reason thereof they are truly psychologically unavailable.

In reviewing the request for the video taped deposition it would appear that the court must consider the probability of psychological injury as a result of testifying; the degree of anticipated injury; the expected duration of the injury and finally, whether the expected injury or psychological damage is sufficiently greater than the reaction of the average victim of a criminal act.

In State v. Roy, 214 Neb. 204, 333 N.W.2d 398, the Nebraska Supreme Court cited U.S. v. Iron Shell, 633 F.2d 77 (8th Cir. 1980) cert. denied 450 U.S. 1001, 101 S.Ct., 1709, 68 L.Ed.2d 203 (1981) for the proposition that the confrontation clause is not violated where the statement which is admitted into evidence has sufficient indicia of reliability to afford the trier of fact a satisfactory basis for evaluating the truth of the statements.

The court in Roy stated:

... the mission of the confrontation clause is to advance practical concern for the accuracy of the truth determination process in criminal trials by assuring that the trier of fact has a satisfactory basis for evaluating the truth of the prior statement.

214 Neb. at 207.

In Roy, the court was reviewing a jury's verdict of guilty on a charge of first degree sexual assault by the defendant upon his two-year old stepdaughter. The court concluded that the tender age of the victim, her battered physical condition and the startling nature of the event, together with the fact that the evidence has been elicited in connection with the child's fear of further injury provided a sufficient basis of reliability to qualify as an acceptable exception to the hearsay rule and therefore, the excited utterance of the child was permitted to be reviewed by the jury.

In State v. Melendez, 661 P.2d 654 (Ariz.App. 1982) the court reviewed an objection by the defendant as to confrontation in view of the fact that he had been convicted by use of a video tape statement of the victim. The court recognized that it was required to balance the competing interest, particularly in view of the fact that the defendant and his counsel were present during the video taping and had an opportunity to cross-examine the victim. Given that situation, the court felt that the defendant had not been prejudiced and that the court's discretion was justified in allowing modern technology to meet the special needs of a witness. They point out that the Arizona Court was construing its Constitution which has language similar to the Nebraska Constitution requiring the defendant to "meet the witnesses against him face to face."

In U.S. v. Nick, 604 F.2d 1199 (1979) the court ruled

The question in each case must be whether a particular hearsay declaration, otherwise admissible, has such great probative value as evidence of a material fact and such a high degree of trustworthiness under all of the circumstances that its reception outweighs any risk to a defendant that unreliable evidence may be received against him, the deficiencies of which he cannot adequately test because he cannot cross-examine the declarant.

604 F.2d at 1203.

The problem in the Nick case resulted from the fact that the defendant objected to the mother's testimony concerning the child's statement to her which had been admitted on the basis of being excited utterances. The case presented a situation in which the problem was the declarant was not subject to cross-examination at any time, and, as a practical matter could not have been subjected to cross-examination even if the witness had been called to testify by reason of his extremely tender years.

The court in affirming the conviction provided that the essential confrontation clause issue presents a question as to whether the evidence has a high degree of reliability and trustworthiness and there is a demonstrated need for the evidence. The court goes on further to point out that availability of cross-examination is simply one of the means by which the quality of the reliability is tested.

The Iron Shell case cited earlier reviewed the Nick decision when it concluded that the confrontation clause had not been violated because of admissions of statements made to the treating position. In so holding, the court recognized that there were several special types of "unavailability" which would satisfy the concerns of the confrontation clause.

U.S. v. Cree, 778 F.2d 474 (1985) the conviction of the defendant was affirmed in regard to an assault on two young boys. The court concluded that the interest of justice was duly served by admission into evidence of testimony concerning the child's statements to the social worker and thereby avoided a potentially traumatic court room experience. The statements were held to not violate the defendant's Sixth Amendment right to confront the witness. It would appear therefore, that again the court in the Eighth Circuit has recently concluded that the issues on admissibility of this type of evidence can rise or fall on the considerations of trustworthiness; materially; probative value; the interest of justice; and notice.

In U.S. v. Benfield, 593 F.2d 815 (1979) the Eighth Circuit reviewed the admissibility of a statement from a witness whose doctor said could not confront the defendant. A deposition of the witness was taken, the witness however was unaware that the defendant was present in the building observing the statement over a monitor.

In reversing the conviction, the court held that the exceptions to the confrontation clause must be narrowly set forth. The court went on, however, to recognize that electronic technology might permit the development of a constitutional use under a proper factual context.

In 1984 the Eighth Circuit again addressed the video tape exception in U.S. v. Terrazaz-Montano, 747 F.2d 467 holding that the facts warranted an exceptional circumstance. In affirming the conviction, the court held that the video statements of aliens, who had been returned to Mexico, could be used. The court reporter, the defendant's attorney and the presence of the defendant all added to the procedure which the court found approximated a traditional court room setting. In reaching its conclusion, the court held that the trial type setting satisfied the indicia of reliability necessary to satisfy the Sixth Amendment.

In conclusion, it would appear that the proposed legislation is aimed at obtaining trustworthy and credible evidence in regard to criminal acts and that it is consistent with the intent of the proposed legislation to facilitate and preserve such testimony of the child victim or child witness.

Sincerely,

ROBERT M. SPIRE

RESOLUTIONSLEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 442.

Introduced by Labedz, 5th District; Schmit, 23rd District; Warner, 25th District; Goodrich, 20th District.

WHEREAS, Bill K. Bloom of Omaha, Nebraska, who represented the twentieth legislative district from 1967-1971, passed away on April 14, 1986; and

WHEREAS, in addition to having been a valued member of the Nebraska Legislature, Mr. Bloom was also a former member of the Police Department of the City of Omaha and a leader in the Police Union and Credit Union movement; and

WHEREAS, his many years of service to the State of Nebraska and the City of Omaha are deserving of recognition by the Legislature.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the members of the Legislature extend their deepest sympathy to the family of Bill K. Bloom.

2. That a copy of this resolution be presented to the family of Bill K. Bloom as an expression of recognition of his accomplishments.

Laid over.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 443.

Introduced by DeCamp, 40th District.

WHEREAS, since the insolvency of several industrial loan and investment companies, and the collapse of the Nebraska Depository Institutions Guaranty Corporation (NDIGC) and the consequent monetary losses suffered by accountholders of such industrials, the Legislature has strenuously wrestled with the issues of whether, in what manner, and to what degree the State of Nebraska should recompense those accountholders; and

WHEREAS, the respectability and integrity of all elements of state and local government, as well as the quality of life in Nebraska, is potentially impaired so long as a large group of individuals, who may have been adversely affected by the collapse of the industrials, reasonably believe they have been unfairly treated by the institutions of government established to protect them; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature finds that despite the fact that the state has no legal liability to accountholders in the failed industrials, and despite the fact that a legal settlement approved by the Legislature eliminated any claim against the state arising out of the Commonwealth disaster, there still remains strong feelings among a significant percentage of the population that something could and should be done to make certain that the NDIGC's $30,000 guarantee, that affected accountholders reasonably believed was protecting them, is met in some way; and

WHEREAS, if "Nebraska, the good life," is to have meaning, then it is reasonable for government to mitigate, as much as possible within the law and within the Constitution, the damage resulting from the industrial failures and the collapse of the NDIGC; and

WHEREAS, the industrial failures have impacted certain senior citizens particularly hard, for which state government has a special responsibility; and

WHEREAS, during the course of the Legislature's consideration of the foregoing issues, the Legislature has limited the scope of its inquiry by adopting the perspective that the ramifications of the Industrial/NDIGC "problem" extend solely to the state's financial institutions; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature has heretofore ignored the fact that the NDIGC acted, in essence, as a private insurer of deposits held in its member institutions and, as such, the collapse of the NDIGC is a matter which reflects upon the safety, soundness and reputation of the state's domestic insurance companies.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the Legislature's Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee and any other legislative member who wishes to participate, shall attempt over the next 90 days to determine whether there are reasonable compromises which may be agreed to by elements of state and local government and private industry which could be implemented to significantly mitigate the damage caused by the failure of industrial loan and investment companies, and by the collapse of the NDIGC.

2. That the Committee shall examine and explore any possible solution which involves no direct appropriation from the general fund, and which allows all elements of government and the private sector to work out such a solution.

3. That such Committee shall specifically examine the effects of the collapse of the NDIGC on Nebraska's domestic insurance companies, and explore the possibility and feasibility of implementing a legislative program, based upon the premises already adopted by the Legislature in the Nebraska Insurance Guaranty Association Act and the Nebraska Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Act, to compensate the failed industrial accountholders by requiring an assessment of all Nebraska insurance companies.

4. That the Committee shall report its findings and recommendations to the Legislature within 90 days.

Laid over.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

April 16, 1986

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning LB 539 without my signature and with my objections.

When I reduced the 86-87 appropriations by vetoing $32.6 million dollars my judgment was based on an evaluation of needs and assessment of what our taxpayers could afford. I argued that $32.6 million dollars should be left in savings and should not be withdrawn from our economy. Further, I argued that the downsizing of government which would unquestionably occur would in the long run benefit this State.

In exercising your right to override most of these vetoes, I recognize that you believe the potential loss of services was a greater danger than the potential losses which come when we remove this money from the economy. I listened to your arguments and though I continue to disagree with them, I acknowledge your sincerity and conviction.

In vetoing this tax bill I do not question your authority to override my spending reductions. Nor do I wish to reposition my preference for an increase in the gasoline tax. Rather I have two specific objections to this piece of legislation.

First, I believe the postponing of implementation until January, 1987, is bad policy. If revenue is needed now, the tax should be imposed immediately. Postponing the implementation until after the November election appears to the public to be an evasion of responsibility.

Secondly, increasing the tax by 1/2¢, as is necessary when the effective date is advanced until January, 1987, sets us on a course of increased expenditures in 87-88. This tax bill will generate $23 million dollars in 86-87, but will generate $45 million dollars in 87-88. This extra money will be a temptation to add expenditures in the next fiscal year.

If there are more than 20 senators who believe this tax bill is flawed I urge you to sustain my veto. Then pledge your support to work with me on developing an acceptable budget and revenue package that avoids an increased rate in either the sales or income tax during a special session.

Sincerely,
(Signed) ROBERT KERREY
Governor

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I have today signed LB 1230 and LB 1230A into law.

For the past three years I have attempted to increase state government's efforts to expand food processing, to assist in bringing equity to developing businesses, and to help the State's number one business and way of life, agriculture. LB 1230 offers the potential of accomplishing all three objectives at once.

However, there are a number of key problems with this legislation. They are as follows:

1. The board, which will make key allocation decisions, has been assembled to gain the support of the interest groups needed to pass the bill, and not with the idea of putting together a board of individuals with the best qualifications and skills. I worry that the board would be dominated by their desire to build alcohol plants and not by their concern for measuring whether the venture would succeed.
2. The purpose of LB 1230 is too narrow. While alcohol plants are certainly processing businesses, they are only one category. I believe that the purpose should be expanded to permit grants to any manufacturing business that processes food.
3. The use of check off funds should be matched with general fund tax dollars. Producers and non-producers will enjoy the economic benefits and should accordingly share in its cost.
4. I believe a very strict review should precede the use of public power bonding authority to construct these plants.

I have discussed these objections with Senator Schmit, the introducer of LB 1230, and with other supporters. I have the support of Senator Schmit for the following actions which I intend to take:

1. Appoint the Agricultural Revitalization Authority Board with the expressed purpose of having them rule on grant applications. This procedure will be an interim, voluntary procedure until a permanent, statutory requirement can be put into place. Senator Schmit has agreed to introduce legislation in the 1987 legislative session to give this board the statutory authority to control these grants.

2. Senator Schmit has also agreed to introduce legislation which will give the authority the power to use these grants for all food processing manufacturing businesses.

3. Senator Schmit has agreed to work towards the objective of obtaining a general fund appropriation to match the received check off money.

4. The Agriculture Revitalization and Stabilization Board will make recommendations for a strict review procedure for the use of public power bonding authority.

Further I will ask the board created by LB 1230 to make an analysis of the feasibility of making investments in the alcohol industry. This recommendation will be forwarded to the board of the agriculture revitalization and stabilization authority.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

Engrossed Legislative Bill 807 was received in my office April 16, 1986.

This bill was signed by me on April 22, 1986, and delivered to the Secretary of State. LB 807 provides for the phased removal of cabooses from trains that operate in the State of Nebraska.

Many arguments have been offered in favor of and in opposition to this legislation. Evidence has been presented that it will enhance this state's efforts to achieve economic development objectives. Testimony has been given that Nebraska uniquely restricts the actions of the railroad industry. Statements have been made to the effect that the presence of the existing statute sends an unfriendly signal to other businesses.

In addition, I have heard Nebraskans tell me that the removal of the cabooses will result in a direct loss of jobs. These citizens express concern that hundreds and perhaps thousands of current railroad employees will be laid off if cabooses are not required on trains.

While I am concerned with both sides of this argument, my attention is principally directed towards questions about safety. As Governor, my decision rests on my answers to two simple questions.

The first is this: Will trains traveling through Nebraska without cabooses result in an increase of the risk of injury to life and property in our state?

My answer to this question is that the removal of cabooses will increase the risk of accidents. I have been presented with sufficient evidence and testimony from people who have worked in manned cabooses to conclude that their presence and their observation of dangerous conditions has resulted in the avoidance of potential accidents.

The next question I must answer is: Does the requirement of cabooses improve public safety enough to warrant the additional cost of their use? Here the question centers on the benefits achieved versus the cost incurred.

I answer this second question in the negative. As I consider the stories told me by Nebraska citizens who believe the current law should be retained, I also look at the following:

1. Since October, 1984, there is no evidence in the observation of 20 million miles of the operation of cabooseless trains that safety has deteriorated on these trains.
2. Nationwide, the incidents of personal injury, loss of life, and damage to property has declined over the past three years. This in spite of the agreement between labor and management which has permitted the gradual removal of manned cabooses.
3. The Railroads have devoted an increased amount of money and time to public education designed to improve public safety.

In signing this Bill into law, I am acutely aware of the potential adverse impact on the safety of Nebraska citizens. I believe this risk is reduced sufficiently by the presence of other railroad employees with the ability to identify potential accidents. Further, it is, in my best judgment, not sufficient to warrant the costs incurred to achieve it.

Sincerely,
(Signed) ROBERT KERREY

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning LB 829 and LB 829A without my signature and with my objections.

LB 829 creates care management services for the elderly through the Area Agencies on Aging and the Department of Social Services. The purpose of assessment and case management is to assure that clients receive the most appropriate level of care and support services so that they can live as independently as possible.

I agree wholeheartedly with this concept, but, in my judgement, LB 829 creates an inadequate administrative structure to provide this service. It assigns several conflicting roles to both the Department of Social Services and the Area Agencies on Aging. Dual rule making authority is given to the Departments of Social Services and Aging for certification and operation of the care management units. This joint authority is confusing and an administrative burden for both agencies. Further, the obvious target of the bill is Medicaid supported nursing home patients, but Medicaid eligible persons are not required to be reviewed by care management units. For these reasons, I cannot support this bill in its present form.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning LB 635 without my signature and with my objections.

LB 635 would allow domestic insurance companies to make loans to officers for the purchase of a principal residence.

In my judgement, this bill would authorize an unnecessary perquisite for highly paid employees at the expense of policyholders, many of which are wage earners and not easily able to afford the existing premiums.

In addition, this creates unnecessary regulatory duties for the State Department of Insurance as they would have to review all proposed loans to establish that the loan was in the best interest of the insurance company.

For these reasons, I cannot support this bill.

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning LB 237 and LB 237A without my signature and with my objections.

LB 237 would require the Department of Correctional Services to tape record inmate disciplinary hearings and to preserve such tapes for six months. It would also provide for inmate access to judicial review of the disciplinary hearings through the Administrative Procedures Act. In my judgement, the latter portion is bad policy.

In 1981, the Nebraska Supreme Court found that the appeal procedures available under the Administrative Procedures Act were designed to protect rights and privileges of the general public and should not be applied to the internal operation of an institution. The court also noted that there was no case which had held that administrative procedure laws and appeal procedures are applicable to prison disciplinary proceedings in either state or federal prisons. I agree with the Nebraska Supreme Court's conclusions.

Inmate disciplinary proceedings are designed to maintain order within correctional institutions and to help in the rehabilitation of inmates. Approximately 5,500 inmate disciplinary hearings are held each year in the institutions under the control of the Department of Correctional Services. The federal and state courts, when reviewing the Department's inmate disciplinary proceedings in such cases, have found the Department's practices and procedures to be exemplary.

If an inmate is dissatisfied with the decision of a disciplinary committee and of the Department of Correctional Services' internal appeal process, he or she has several recourses. The inmate may petition the Nebraska District Court for a writ of error, bring a civil rights action in federal court, or file a petition for writ of habeas corpus.

In summary, the appeal procedure provided for under LB 237 is not necessary to ensure that disciplinary proceedings are handled in a fair and lawful manner.

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I hereby return LB 959 and LB 959A without my signature and with my objections.

The intent of LB 959, to distribute information on creation and management of local housing authorities, has merit. The inflexible requirement that state government publish a manual, though, does not serve this purpose well. Such manuals already are available from the federal government. Many housing authorities probably would not choose to pay the mandated fee for a state manual. Moreover, the many and frequent changes coming as a result of the Gramm Rudman budget cuts would make any manual outdated soon after its printing.

Information in other forms is often more useful than manuals. The Department of Economic Development long has offered on-site technical assistance and workshops to local housing authorities that request help. They will continue to offer this individualized service.

Finally, if some sort of documented information is truly needed at some time, the Department has sufficient existing statutory authority. LB 959 with its inflexible deadlines is not needed.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning LB 967 with my signature but with certain line item reductions.

I have vetoed the $100,000 for the establishment of Business Development Centers in North Platte and Scottsbluff.

These centers would represent the first step toward new Masters of Business Administration Programs. The objective of providing assistance to businesses in Western Nebraska is a good one and I will be asking the Research and Development Authority to direct special attention to this goal. Before we begin the funding of these programs however, we need to have a clear understanding of future costs and the overall objectives and organization of these new programs, which was one of the fundamental principles adopted in the drafting of LB 850. This planning can be done without this $100,000.

Sincerely,
(Signed) ROBERT KERREY

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning LB 603 without my signature and with my objections.

LB 603 requires the Secretary of State to make changes in the centralized computer indexing system for filed financing statements. This is in response to Section 1324 of the Food Security Act of 1985 ('85 Farm Bill).

I am firmly committed to the development of a central indexing system. The Secretary of State will continue to develop this system during 1986 with my full support and encouragement.

During recent meetings with agricultural groups I expressed this commitment and my expectation that no pressure will be brought upon the Secretary of State to delay this implementation. My expectation is this implementation will substantially benefit borrowers, lenders, buyers, and sellers.

In vetoing LB 603, I am therefore not sending the message that I am opposed to its concept. Rather, I fully expect something similar to LB 603 will be introduced and passed in the 1987 Legislative session.

To that end I am asking Mr. Bill Peters, Chairman of the Central Filing Council, and Mr. Chuck Schroeder, Director of the Nebraska Department of Agriculture, to recommend a committee of Nebraskans who will develop appropriate legislation. Many details and operating procedures need to be worked out to the satisfaction of those concerned. The industries affected have agreed to work closely in supporting the Secretary of State's efforts to make the necessary improvements throughout the next year. They have also agreed to jointly develop the needed legislation for the 1987 legislative session.

I believe the concerned group of lenders, borrowers, and brokers have demonstrated a genuine willingness to work together to improve the existing system and to fully consider the impact of any changes well before they are implemented.

With this commitment of cooperation, I am vetoing LB 603.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning LB 201 and LB 201A without my signature and with my objections.

LB 201 would create a high risk pregnancy program with a potential fiscal impact of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

With the current state of the economy, this is not the time to be starting expensive new programs.

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning LB 90 without my signature and with my objections.

LB 90 would allow the substitution of live trial testimony of a child witness with a pretrial video taped deposition. Although the goal of protecting a child witness is laudable, it infringes too much upon the rights of the defendant in that it interferes with the defendant's right to confront the witness in front of a jury.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

April 18, 1986

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, NE 68509

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning LB 600A without my signature and with my objections.

LB 600A would raise the speed limit on interstate highways to 70 m.p.h. in September, 1987. In my opinion, this increase is not prudent at this time.

Aside from the safety, energy, and enforcement issues, the state stands to lose $130,000,000 in federal highway funds if the federal limit remains unchanged. This potential loss of funding is too great to risk non-compliance. If the speed limit is increased at the federal level, Nebraska still has time to make the necessary change at the state level.

(Signed) Sincerely,
ROBERT KERREY
Governor
